New Name Contest

Great Tanzanian Gold Rush “Name That Property Contest”

Win an African Safari for Two – Value $40,000* You name the property, we choose your name, and we send you on safari for two to Tanzania!

Exciting Gold Property

Douglas Lake Minerals recently purchased a 420 sq. km. gold alluvial property in Tanzania called Mbwemkuru. The potential of this property is excellent as early estimates indicate reserves of 5.2 million ounces of gold with average assay results indicating 94 GPT.

So What’s in a Name?

Since this is a large gold alluvial property with world-class potential and a name that’s hard to pronounce...we’ve decided we need a new world-class name! One that describes the potential of the property. And what better way to come up with a name than to ask investors. Create a new name for our Mbwemkuru property and you’ll win an all-expenses paid trip for two to Tanzania valued at $40,000. To learn more about the contest, read the contest flyer (PDF file).
